

Stacy Andersen & Joey Johnson

Design team focuses on making each project a one-of-a-kind

Stacy Andersen and Joey Johnson provide a fully-personalized custom design experience combining on-site consultation with the convenience of a design center, assuring their client's space will truly be one-of-a-kind.

The first step is on-site or in-home consultation where Stacy and Joey bring their years of design experience directly into a client's space to collaborate and assess the client's personality, preferences and functionality.

"We work in a variety of design styles," Joey says. "We make sure to listen, observe and engage in the space. We want our clients to have a completely custom look that expresses their unique styles."

Because Stacy and Joey work out of a design center, rather than a sales floor, clients can be assured their design is truly personalized.

Clients can also enjoy a one-on-one appointment at the design center where the on-site consultation meets a hands-on opportunity to see, touch and experience a variety of design options.

"We love bringing people to our design center," Stacy says. "Our clients get access to exclusive lines, and they can see and experience all their options. It's really a client-focused experience."

Stacy and Joey love the challenge of designing for both beauty and purpose.

"Our first job is to infuse fashion," says Stacy, an experienced designer of 12 years who has designed everything from a commercial aircraft hangar to start-to-finish exterior and interior custom homes. "But the function is always there, too. We love designing spaces that are pretty as well as purposeful."

Stacy and Joey work by appointment only and welcome interior and exterior home design projects as well as commercial projects and remodels. Their design offices are housed out of Remedy Furniture & Design Center.

Stacy and Joey are ready to transform your space into a fully-custom, fashionable, and functional extension of your personality.
